“Parabolic Action”. We have all heard this term, but what does it mean to a fisherman? Good blank design starts by providing a gradual increase in stiffness from the tip to the handle. These state-of-the-art Seeker blanks can provide you with both stiffness and flexibility where you need it. Stiffness to power large gamefish to the boat, and flexibility to keep them on the hook during their violent head-shakes at gaff! S-Glass has been used in fishing rod blanks for decades and will give you that feeling of control, the next time you “hook-up”, and your in for that long fight. These new Seeker Extreme S-Glass blanks are here to stay. They are just that good!

Latest Information from Seeker:

Seeker has completed their production of the Blue Extreme S-Glass blanks and are sold out of the blue composite type, but there are many models still available of the “all” Blue S-Glass variety.

Seeker has started production on the new Brown Honey S-Glass blanks currently dubbed “Super Seeker”. These new blanks are the strongest blanks yet and look totally beautiful! They will be available soon.

For tip size, butt size information for the EX blanks, see the standard model numbers listed in the Seeker list.

SEEKER CLASSIC SERIES BLANKS

These E-Glass/Boron blanks are based on the original California Tackle blank designs.

Pac Bay Blanks

Pac Bay has been building great blanks for many years and are used extensively nationally. It is only on the west coast where we have not yet appreciated this great source of blanks. From what we have seen, they have invested the most effort into research, testing and development. Quality control and workmanship are among the best. All come with a lifetime factory warranty from Pac Bay. We have been using and Pac Bay blanks for years now. We think they should be regarded and used for your best custom rods!
